The Memphis area's third Super Kmart Center is scheduled to open Monday, this one at 3201 Austin Peay near Coleman.

The superstores, which each have about 178,000 square feet and employ about 600 people, sell both groceries and general merchandise. The first two, in Southaven and on Winchester at Germantown Extended, opened June 5.

Kmart, based in Troy, Mich., is closing most of its traditional discount stores in the Memphis area.

The Super Kmart on Austin Peay will be open 24 hours.
